Lift of Naval Blockade of Cuba Ordered by Kennedy

Action Follows Mr. K's Pledge On Bombers

U.S. To Continue Aerial Surveillance, President Indicates

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy, saying there is reason for gratitude in this Thanksgiving week, has called off the U.S. blockade of Cuba in return for promised removal of Soviet bombers from the island.

Serious problems remain, Kennedy emphasized Tuesday night at his first news conference since the Cuban crisis spread jitters around the world.

Until arrangements are made to verify the withdrawal of Soviet missiles and planes, preferably by inspection on the spot, he said the United States will do its own checking on military activity in Cuba.

He clearly meant that among other measures this country would continue to send out reconnaissance planes to guard against another buildup in Cuba, despite Prime Minister Fidel Castro's threat to shoot them down.

Red Progress Made

Yet, with the manner of a man reporting the worst is over, Kennedy said real progress has been made—and a complete settlement could open the door to solution of other east-west issues.

Philosophically, he added: "In this week of Thanksgiving, there is much for which we can be grateful as we look back to where we stood only four weeks ago—the unity of this hemisphere, the support of our allies and the calm determination of the American people. These qualities may be tested many more times in this decade, but we have increased reason to be confident that those qualities will continue to serve the cause of freedom with distinction in the years to come."

The news conference, his first in nearly 10 weeks, was carried by national radio and television networks.

Cancels Combat Readiness

A few hours after Kennedy's announcement that the arms blockade would end, Moscow radio said the Soviet government had canceled the state of combat readiness it ordered for its armed forces Oct. 23 because of the Cuban crisis. The order also said Soviet submarines should return to their normal stations.

Kennedy opened the session with the dramatic announcement that Soviet Premier Khrushchev had just promised in a personal message to pull out all IL28 jet bombers within 30 days.

Khrushchev reportedly had placed 30-odd IL28s in Cuba. He also agreed to permit the planes to be observed and counted as they go. Authorities indicated the Russians would need 30 days in which to dismantle the planes, crate them and get ships to Cuba to haul them home.

"Inasmuch as this goes a long way towards reducing the danger which faced this hemisphere four weeks ago," Kennedy said, "I have this afternoon instructed the secretary of defense to lift our naval quarantine."

As expected, Cuba and thorns still sticking out of the crisis dominated the half-hour in a room crowded with correspondents. But the President made other significant news.

He announced he had signed the long-awaited order to ban discrimination in federally aided housing.

He said a team headed by W. Averell Harriman, assistant secretary of State for Far Eastern affairs, was leaving for New Delhi to determine India's needs in its undeclared frontier war with Communist China.

Signs Housing Measure

Responding to criticism of administration information practices, he said the government would clamp down on sensitive matters, especially in the intelligence field, but otherwise would lift any restraints from the free flow of news.

On the main question of the day, Kennedy said "important

Time to Act Is Now

(AN EDITORIAL)

Whether Salem gets the W. State St. overpass may well be determined when City Council meets late today.

Needed is City Council's approval of a resolution to pay the city's share of cost and the city auditor's certification that the money is in fund. This amount — $22,092.72 — is only a small fraction of the estimated $1,313,808 improvement. The major expense is being borne by state and federal funds.

Time is running out on the project, however. Council action is necessary at once so that the state can move quickly to get the job advertised and a contract awarded before the year ends. This is no time for personal differences or petty bickering which has reflected unfavorably on several city officials in the past year.

Salem's need of a grade separation on W. State St. has been apparent for years and probably at no other time will the city be able to get an improvement of such magnitude at so little cost.

The eyes of the community are on City Council.

County School Board OK's $59,751 Budget

LISBON — The Columbiana Board of Education Tuesday night adopted a $59,751 budget for 1963, an increase of $2,429.16 over the current $57,321.84 fund measure.

A lengthy discussion on salary raises was held by the board but the only action taken was the hiring of Miss Phyllis Hadley, secretary, for 12 months instead of the 10½ she now is employed.

A breakdown of the new budget, with 1962 in parenthesis, shows: Supervisory teacher $8,100 ($8,100); supervisory teacher No. 2, $7,850 ($6,783); special instruction teacher $38,300 ($7,950) plus $800 each for travel expense.

County superintendent $9,300 ($9,300); plus $600 travel; secretary $4,300 ($4,300); secretary $2,820 ($2,467); county attendance officer $2,701 ($2,701) plus $450 travel allowance; educational meetings $100 ($50); county board of education $400 ($400); communication $850 ($850); postage $350 ($350); office supplies $900 ($800); office supplies $1,800 ($1,700); printing $700 ($700); repair for office equipment $100 ($100); board's share-teacher retirement $3,745 ($3,700); board's school employees retirement $965 ($900); service fund $500 ($500); other expenses, mis. expenses $900 ($800); attending educational meetings $600 ($500); testing and guidance $1,600 ($1,500).

In other business, the county board discussed the request of Mrs. Louise Martin and neighbor, William Bauman, with reference to Mrs. Martin's request for $250

U.N. Hails Soviet, U.S. Cuban Moves

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Delegates hailed today concessions by the United States and the Soviet Union on two main friction points over Cuba as a big step out of the crisis.

Diplomats predicted that long negotiations lay ahead before a final settlement is reached. But most felt the talks could proceed more smoothly since Premier Khrushchev has promised to pull some 30 jet bombers out of Cuba and President Kennedy countered by ordering the naval arms blockade lifted.

Many U.N. members who supported the U.S. position on Cuba have been apprehensive that the blockade might touch off an incident that could lead to a shooting war.

Many knotty problems still face U.S. and Soviet negotiating teams who have spent three weeks trying to resolve the crisis.

Kennedy stressed in his news conference Tuesday night that there still is no on-site U.N. inspection to make sure the Soviet Union is living up to its side of the bargain.

Fidel Castro has agreed to let the bombers be removed from his country, but he stressed again his opposition to inspection on Cuban soil and threatened again to shoot down U.S. planes flying over Cuba on reconnaissance missions.

Chinese Reds Crash Indian Defenses

JFK Sends Special Group To Study Arms Need

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy is sending a high powered special mission to New Delhi today to survey India's military needs in the conflict with Red China and recommended a U.S. assistance program.

In spite of a sudden Chinese cease-fire move, U.S. officials expect Prime Minister Nehru to request massive U.S. aid to modernize his armed forces and raise permanently the level of his military strength.

The surprise maneuver by the Chinese Reds, however, threw an element of uncertainty into the situation. As Kennedy told a news conference Tuesday night, Washington is waiting for Nehru's own assessment of the move as a guide to further U.S. action.

He said there is no present indication that U.S. troops will be sent to India.

Kennedy said he was sending a team headed by Assistant Secretary of State W. Averell Harriman to New Delhi "in order to better assess Indian needs."

Other members of the survey team include: Assistant Secretary of Defense Paul H. Nitze, who heads international security affairs in the Defense Department; Gen. Paul D. Adams, chief of the U.S. Strike Command, which specializes in moving fully equipped troop units by air over long distances; Carl Kayser, deputy assistant to Kennedy; Roger Hillsman, State Department intelligence chief, and James P. Grant, deputy assistant secretary of state for South Asia and the Middle East.

Harriman heads the State Department's Far Eastern section. A former ambassador and one-time governor of New York, he is a veteran of many foreign assignments and has been intimately involved in developing resistance to Communist pressures in Southeast Asia.

Harriman declined to discuss the present state of the Chinese-Indian crisis, saying that the situation is "changing every hour."

In the Chinese-Indian border war which began a month ago the United States has already supplied more than $5 million worth of small arms, communications equipment and other material to the Indian forces in an effort to help Nehru stem the tide of Communist advance in the Himalayan Mountains.

Informants said that urgent new Indian requests for additional equipment have come in almost daily.

Council Gives Unanimous Approval

Income Tax Measure Extended Two Years

City Council at its regular meeting Tuesday night unanimously passed an ordinance extending the .5 city income tax for a two-year period, effective Jan. 1, 1963, until Dec. 31, 1964.

Except for length of duration and effective dates, the ordinance is similar to one originally passed for one year only beginning Jan. 1, 1961, and to another ordinance which followed effective Jan. 1, this year, also for one year only.

Councilman James Aldom, council's acting finance committee chairman in the absence of Councilman Fred Koenreich who is recuperating from an illness, introduced the income tax ordinance and accompanying resolution at Tuesday night's meeting. All three readings were given to the 23-page ordinance and 45 - page' accompanying resolution by titles only last night.

Councilman Aldom also introduced two other emergency ordinances during the meeting. Passed unanimously by council, these ordinances:

Authorize and direct the service director and the director of public safety to advertise for bids and enter into contracts for the purchase of gasoline, oil, greases, coal, light bulbs, poles, wire, cross arms, parking meters, asphalt materials for road building and patching slag of different grades for patching and other miscellaneous items; and

Transfer the sum of $600 from interest to engineering equipment for the purchase of a station wagon to be used by the engineering department.

City Buys Land for Use As Playground

A section of ground at the corner of S. Lincoln Ave. and Cedar St. has been purchased for a playground by the city of Salem from the Arnell Construction Co. of Canton.

Charles F. Tomlinson, superintendent of the city parks and recreation department, reported briefly to City Council Tuesday night that the property has been obtained by the city.

Neil Libster, secretary of the Arnell firm, today described for The Salem News the property which has been purchased for a playground as being 165 feet by 223 feet, and adjacent to the Canton firm's Cedar Ridge allotment. Libster said the property for the playground was sold to the city by Arnell for $1,200, "a price scarcely half of what the land is worth."

It is expected that swings and other playground equipment will be erected on the land after some fill-in work has been done by the city.

Arnell in the past year has built 23 new homes in a loop comprised of Cedar and Deming Sts., referred to as the Cedar Ridge allotment.

Lions Club Sight Fund Drive Begins

The Salem Lions Club is conducting its annual Sight Seal project, with all proceeds to go into the local fund for sight conservation work.

R. K. Rowand is chairman of the committee, assisted by Leo Beall and Olin Muntz.

The Lions club sight seals have been mailed to practically all homes in the city, accompanied by return envelopes.

Eighty-five per cent of the funds raised will be used in the Salem area and 15 per cent given to the Ohio Eye Research Foundation, which also helps locally, Rowand said.

The Lions each year purchase eye glasses for children whose parents are financially unable to do so, pay for eye operations for children and less-fortunate adults and the club also has bought seeing-eye dogs for blind people.

Checks, made payable to Lions Club Sight Fund, may be sent to Mr. Rowand at the King Die Corp., 392 W. State St.

Communists' Offer For Cease-Fire Rejected

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—Chinese Communist troops have broken through Indian defenses south of Bomdila and are plunging toward the plains of Assam, a Defense Ministry spokesman said today.

In a parallel strike, the Red Chinese were reported to have advanced about 65 miles in the Luhit River Valley at the eastern end of the Himalayan front.

The announcement of these actions came only a few hours before the Wednesday midnight deadline—11 a.m. ET—at which Red China said it had ordered its victory-flushed Himalayan divisions to silence their guns.

Indian Prime Minister Nehru had in effect rejected Peking's terms.

The Defense spokesman refused to say what would be the Indian army reaction to the Red Chinese declaration of a cease-fire.

He left the impression at his daily briefing that the Indians would continue shooting at invaders.

Nehru told Parliament earlier that the Chinese declaration for the cease-fire and a withdrawal had not been officially received here.

The prime minister said it would be examined when it comes.

Nehru told Parliament today India would stand by its insistence on the restoration of military positions held before last Sept. 8 consider the Chinese statement—as the condition for settlement.

He said his government would broadcast earlier today by Peking radio—when it is officially received. But the Chinese statement clearly blocked the idea of restoring Indian troops to posts they held in Ladakh before Sept. 8.

In their statement, the Chinese said they planned to put a cease-fire into effect unilaterally tonight and to begin troop withdrawals Dec. 1 to establish a 25-mile demilitarized zone between the two forces. They called on the Indians to take similar measures and warned they would fight back if the Indians continued shooting.

Under repeated questioning in the lower house, Nehru declared that India's demand for the line held before Sept. 8 "is a good position, a strong position, and we do not propose to consider any negotiations until that position is restored. We don't shift our stand every 24 hours."

The withdrawals, Peking said, would carry Chinese troops in the Ladakh area in the northwest and the Towang sector of the northeast frontier 12½ miles behind the line of actual control on Nov. 7, 1959. On the eastern sector of the northeast frontier, the Chinese

Certification Refused by Mrs. Coyne

Deadline Friday on Resolution; Council Session Set Tonight

City Auditor Helen Coyne, although not present at Tuesday night's regular City Council session, figured prominently in council activity — and lack of activity.

Failure of Mrs. Coyne to have signed a certificate, indicating that money needed by the city as Salem's share of the proposed W. State St. overpass is in fund or in the process of being collected, caused councilmen to halt until 5 p.m. today in their consideration of a final resolution involving the city's cooperation in construction of the overpass.

The city auditor's certification is required before the legislation can be passed.

Legislation from the Ohio Department of Highways was presented by Mayor Dean B. Cramer at Tuesday night's council session. The legislation declares that Salem's cost in the proposed overpass project (estimated at $1,313,808) will be $22,092.72.

The figure is $694 more than the original estimate of the city's five per cent share of the expense in the Route 62 improvement. The mayor explained that the additional $694 is Salem's five per cent of the cost of resurfacing W. Pershing St. from S. Ellsworth Ave. to Sharp St., which is a portion of the work to be involved if the proposed overpass becomes a reality.

Friday Is Deadline

Before the state will continue with project plans, Salem City Council must approve of the legislation and deliver it to Division 11, State Highway Department headquarters in New Philadelphia by Friday.

Two other deadlines follow: Nov. 26, by which time the legislation must be in Columbus; and Dec. 18, by which time the state must award construction contracts for the overpass.

Councilmen at Tuesday night's meeting entertained no doubts that Salem has the required money for participation in the overpass project, 95 per cent of the cost of which is to be paid by federal and state governments and by the Pennsylvania Railroad. Confidence of councilmen that the city can easily meet its share of the expense is based upon the auditor's recent report that more than $188,000 has been collected this year thus far by the city income tax.

Had Sought Certification

Councilman James Aldom, council's acting finance committee chairman who introduced the overpass resolution Tuesday night, reported that he had earlier in the day gone into the office of City Auditor Coyne in order to get certification.

The councilman said that Mrs. Coyne declared she would not certify the legislation because a resolution passed by a previous council permitting money collected by the city income tax in one year in excess of $150,000 to be used for the overpass was effective in 1961 and not this year.

Council President Ford Joseph Jr. quickly assured councilmen at Tuesday night's meeting that Mrs. Coyne was in error in saying that money over $150,000 collected this year by city income tax could not be used for the overpass.

While council recessed for 20 minutes, President Joseph and

Ministers Talk To Columbiana Clubs

COLUMBIANA — Rev. Arthur V. Swinehart of the Austintown Community Church told Kiwanis club members Monday that the true meaning of Thanksgiving is in danger of being lost.

As a holiday, he said, it is being absorbed into the commercial buildup of Christmas, and spiritually it is becoming a day of self-gratification rather than a day for remembering the gifts we have received. He asked everyone to remember that the opportunity to work and live in freedom and to build a land of abundance is truly a gift.

Next week Rev. Ralph Goldhardt will show slides and tell about his activities as a missionary in New Guinea.

Delegations from the Austintown and Canfield Kiwanis clubs attended, including Lee Leonard, Ohio District Treasurer designate, a member of the Austintown club. Tracey Powell, president-elect, and ten other officers and committee chairmen for 1963 attended the 19th Division Lieutenant Governor's Training Conference in Wellsville Sunday.

A delegation from the club will attend the 19th Division Council Meeting Nov. 28 at Westgate School in East Liverpool.

IN A THANKSGIVING address to the Rotary Club Monday Rev. Harold Thiedt, pastor of the Grace United Church, spoke on "Life's Bonuses," the extra things that we could do without.

Erwood Calvin was program chairman. Next week Allan White will present a program on "The Handicaps of Being an American."

Visiting Rotarians were Frank Duffy of Struthers and Charles Webber of Lisbon.

RESERVATIONS MUST BE in by Dec. 5 for the Columbiana Boat and Ski Club Christmas dinner Dec. 12 at Theron's.

Mr. and Mrs. William Engberg and Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Olenick are in charge.

Columbus Man Held In Death Of Babysitter

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A 16-year-old babysitter was struck with six shots from a .45-caliber pistol and killed early today. Police were holding a 29-year-old North Side man for questioning.

Police identified the victim as Alice John Wilcoxson.

Charges were expected to be filed against James Click, police said.

The victim was babysitting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Blaine Walters, police said, when Click entered the apartment and fired all six shots of the pistol into Miss Wilcoxson.

A witness to the shooting, Sharon Reeser, 17, said Click and Miss Wilcoxson had argued earlier Tuesday night, police related.

Police said Click appeared to have no connection with the slaying of a business school coed, Mary Margaret Andrews, in the Ohio State University area several weeks ago but that he would be questioned about it today.

The scene of today's shooting is several blocks east of the Andrews slaying.

Columbiana Masons To Install Nov. 30

COLUMBIANA — Fred Liston, worship master, and other new officers of Allen Lodge No. 276, F. & A.M., will be installed at ceremonies Nov. 30 in the Masonic Temple.

Liston, who is assistant postmaster and resides at 629 Pittsburgh St., was elected recently to succeed George H. Cyrus.

Senior warden; William F. Smith; junior warden, Kenneth H. Rowland; senior deacon, Kenneth R. Frost; junior deacon, Robert Blake; secretary, Wilder Foerch; treasurer, E. P. Funkhouser; senior steward, Gary Wilms; junior steward, Lester Seidner; chaplain, Harold E. Brubaker; tyler, Edgar V. Bell and trustee, George H. Cyrus.

Mr. Liston has been a member of Allen Lodge since 1955 and is also a member of the Scottish Rite Mahoning Consistory, Al Koran Shrine of Cleveland and Royal Arch Masons of Salem.

Bill L. Willis will be installing officer; J. Paul Wilms, marshal, and Wilbur H. Garrod, chaplain.

MEMBERS OF THE Junior and Senior High Fellowship Groups of the First Presbyterian Church were hosts to the youth groups of the Lutheran Grace Reformed and Methodist Churches Sunday evening.

Albert Barber, president of the Junior High Fellowship welcomed members and guests and Karen Dean led the devotions.

The 130 in attendance enjoyed a play, "High Pressure Area," concerning teen-age reactions to parental disapproval of dating, presented by the Youngstown University Drama Club. Mrs. Russell Barber, adviser, led a 30 minute discussion of the play.

The meeting closed with the group singing, "Blest Be the Tie that Binds," and the benediction was given by Thomas Miller.

Special guests at the event were Rev. and Mrs. Harry Scheidegger, Mrs. Ruth Wining, Richard Souder, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Maden and Mrs. William Stamets.

Jaycee Snowball Dance Is Saturday

The ninth annual Jaycee Snowball Dance will be held at the Salem Golf Club from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. Saturday. Music will be provided by the Ernie Mitchell orchestra.

Proceeds from the dance will be used to help defray the expenses of the annual Christmas parties for underprivileged children and other Jaycee projects.

Paul Mandalin is chairman of the event assisted by John Gay and Kenneth Quandt.

The public is invited to attend, with a special invitation extended to college students. Door prizes will be awarded.

Tickets may be obtained at the Farmers National Bank or the First National Bank any time this week.

E. Palestine School Custodian Resigns

DIRECTOR TO RETIRE

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—The acting superintendent of the Akron-Canton Airport, Clyde E. Gainey, 67, wants to retire Dec. 1, but it is doubtful the agency operating the airport will be able to find a successor for him by that date.

The agency, composed of four representatives from Summit and four from Stark County, did not have the resignation in time for consideration at their meeting Monday, one of the members said.

Pay Hike Measure Gets 2nd Reading

EAST PALESTINE — By unanimous vote city council passed to the second reading a pay raise ordinance affecting 17 employees in the city light department when it met Monday evening.

Two more favorable readings are required before final passage. If the measure is approved all employees at the light plant, the line crew, safety-service director and clerks in the office will receive a 5 per cent hike in pay Jan. 1, with a similar boost in pay due Jan. 1, 1964.

The pay raises will result in approximately $3,000 a year increase in operating cost.

A petition seeking a pay raise for 11 employees of the street and water department was presented to Council last night and referred to the finance committee.

GIRL WANTS 'SPOT' BACK

CINCINNATI (AP) — The first letter to Santa Claus was sent a bit early this year by 11-year-old Susan Miller, who only wanted her dog, Spot, returned.

Cincinnati postal officials said the letter Tuesday from the Cincinnati girl said her 12 brothers and sisters were unhappy and "even my mum and dad is (sic) very sad." The 8-month-old pup disappeared early this month, she said. "We have all walk (sic) many miles looking day after day for him Mom went to the dog pound to (sic). It's not like Spot to just take off he always comes home."

LIES IN FRONT OF TRAIN

IRONTON, Ohio (AP)—Trainmen on a Norfolk & Western freight passing through Ironton's North Side saw George Green, about 50, lying with his head on the track in front of them Tuesday, they told authorities. But they couldn't stop the train in time to keep from striking Green, of Ironton, and killing him, they said.

CLEVELAND (AP)—Dr. Otto J. Korb, 73, superintendent of East Cleveland schools from 1939 to 1959 when he retired, died at his home in that suburb Tuesday.

School Board Reports Campaign Expenses

The Fairfield-Waterford School District Board of Education spent $37 in support of a campaign for a 4-2 mill levy on the Nov. 6 ballot, according to a sworn statement of campaign expenditures filed Tuesday with the County Election Board at East Liverpool.

The report was signed by Joe W. Driscoll, executive head of the school district.

The Wellsville Teachers' Association filed a report showing it spent $17 campaigning for support of a 5-mill operating levy. The report was signed by Mary L. Jenkins, chairman of the association's campaign committee.

Meanwhile, Frank R. O'Hanlon, clerk of the board, reminded that Dec. 21 is the deadline for filing the expense statements. They are required of all candidates, whether or not they were successful, and of individuals or groups that supported or opposed any candidate or issue.

STORES FACE CITATIONS

CINCINNATI (AP) — Police Chief Stanley Schrotel says Sunday closing law enforcement next Sunday will center chiefly on a dozen violators. He said all will be warned they face citations if they open for business.

Schrotel did not name the stores but said they were hardware businesses, supermarkets, furniture and department stores.

SEEK DEVELOPMENT FUNDS

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A subcommittee has recommended to a state parks study committee that it ask the legislature to allocate one-half of one per cent of motor fuel taxes to the Water Resources Board for marine developments. The subcommittee estimated such an allocation would provide about $1.25 million a year. It proposed that half of this go for land purchase and the rest for maintenance.

WON'T ENFORCE LAW

LORAIN, Ohio (AP) — In a meeting attended by eight Lorain county mayors Tuesday, only Lorain's mayor, Woodrow M. Mathna, said he would enforce the Sunday closing law in his city this Sunday. Mayor Charles V. Neeson of Elyria, the county's second largest city, said he would prosecute on Sunday sales if residents brought charges.

Burpers Preferred

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP)—One of the learned discussions of parenthood is: When are children at their best?

Children themselves are fascinated by this kind of talk, as people are always interested in discussions of mankind as it used to be. Children at all ages to be told about how they were before they remember.

In our house we have only one child under middle-age, a daughter, Tracy Ann, who is 9 years old.

"With all the trouble and the dearsness that you are now, our experience with you up till now is that you were never more responsible to our love than when you hid you over our shoulder, patted you—and you burped. That was our family peak—no matter what you study in the fourth grade," we tell her.

Correction to the previous paragraph. That is what I tell my wife and daughter.

"What my wife says is: 'How can you talk that way to a child?'"

"You mean her or you?" I ask. "It is the way I feel as of now."

"Well, that is no attitude you should have toward your duty of raising a child that will express our mutual desire for her to—"

"You mean," I ask, "that if we work to send her to college she will be more fun then afterward than she was when we burped her?"

"Yes," says Frances, my wife, with her usual sense of certainty. "Children are often most rewarding when they are in their teens."

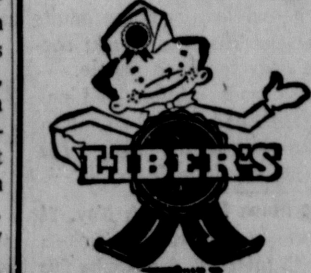

"Name just two," I demand, "from Adam to Adenauer."

My wife thinks this challenge is rather ridiculous. So does my daughter, who is always on her mother's side. Perhaps we discuss our child more freely in her presence than we ought—but she is usually there.

The Doctor Says

By Dr. WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT
Anxiety Can Slow Recovery

As people grow more and more complacent, they tend less and less to give thanks. Giving thanks for the good things that have come our way is the opposite of taking these things for granted. Hardly anyone is so unfortunate these days that he has nothing for which to be thankful.

This is one reason our president sets aside a day of Thanksgiving every year. In doing so he is carrying out a tradition originated by the Pilgrims, who had much less to be thankful for than we.

The reason I have recounted these homely truths is that they have a definite bearing on our individual health. The person who habitually feels thankful to others and does not consider every benefit as his inherent right is better integrated into his community and has a healthier mental outlook.

THE HEALTHY, well integrated person is not immune to infections or accidental injury, but he is definitely less likely to develop the diseases induced by states of anxiety and tension. Even when he develops a cold or a broken bone, his disposition allows him to react to his disease in a way that promotes more rapid recovery.

Much has been written about the psychosomatic factor in illness. Essentially this is a recognition on the part of doctors of the emotional reaction of different persons to the same disease or injury.

An injury to the fingers in a violinist or a pianist would elicit a far greater emotional response than would the same injury in a man who ran an elevator. Both use their hands but, since the musician must make finely co-ordinated movements not required in operating an elevator, he would react to his injury with greater anxiety.

THE DOCTOR MUST always treat the whole man, anxiety as well as injured hand.

To say that there is a psychosomatic element in a person's illness—and there always is—does not imply an unbalanced mental state, although this erroneous idea has sprung up in the minds of some people as evidenced by some of the mail I have received.

Be thankful, look on the bright side, count your many blessings. If illness strikes, the job of getting well again will be easier.

Q—I am a housewife. For months my tongue has been sore. I have no appetite and have been losing weight. I don't smoke or use any liquor. I have false teeth so it isn't from toothpaste. Something must cause this, but what? A—You are right in assuming that for every pain or discomfort we feel there must be a cause. Since the causes of soreness in the tongue range from trivial conditions such as eating too much raw pineapple to very serious conditions, since you have had this several months, and since it is associated with a loss of weight, I would advise you to have a thorough checkup by your doctor without delay.

Suit for $32,597 Filed In Accident

LISBON — A suit for $32,597.97 for personal injuries and damages allegedly stemming from an auto-truck accident was filed in common pleas court Tuesday by Evelyn Wilkes McGee, Columbiana RD 2.

Homer Arthur Miller of Salem RD 1, was named the defendant. Mrs. McGee claims in her petition that on May 29, 1961 she was driving south on Route 164 at the intersection of Route 558 near Columbiana, a truck driven by Miller pulled in front of her car, causing a collision.

Underground Network In Cuba Cited

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Subterranean passages dug beneath Havana by the Spaniards in Colonial days have been put in order by the Fidel Castro regime for use in case of an invasion, the Cuban Revolutionary Council said today. The council detailed a vast underground network and suggested it could be used by the Castro regime as an escape hatch as well as for defense against an enemy. The report was released by Manuel Antonio de Varona, council public relations executive.

The report said one underground passage has been extended to Castro's presumed residence.

The council, major anti-Castro organization which mounted the unsuccessful Bay of Pigs invasion of Cuba, said also that a network of secret airport and hangars had been constructed throughout Cuba.

At some of the hidden or camouflaged airports, the council added, there are detection devices designed to spy electronically on missile launchings at Cape Canaveral, Fla.

Also included in the network, the council asserted, are missile bases undetected by American U2 planes.

Cracks In the Solid South

Political pulse-feelers are guessing that North Carolina, Virginia, South Carolina, Florida, Tennessee, Texas and Arkansas may bolt the Democrats in the 1964 presidential campaign.

They are saying the Solid South is a thing of the past, like the Republicanism of Maine, New Hampshire and Vermont. They are predicting that a Republican presidential candidate with strong appeal to anti-Kennedy Democrats in the 11 Southern states might pry their 128 electoral votes out of the Democratic party's grasp.

In these states and the border states, say the pulse-feelers, a Kennedy ticket would have to fight for every electoral vote it received. In some states there would be three slates of electors, in others unpledged electors. In still others Republican electors would win, as they have been winning in Tennessee and Florida recently.

THE QUESTION is whether Republicans will be tempted to throw away their hope of edging into the big-city Democratic vote of the North in favor of a chance to break up the solid Democratic South.

The temptation would be strong; there can be no doubt about that. The Democratic party's presidential prospects are tied to those 128 electoral votes in the 11 Southern states, plus the border states with historic Democratic inclination. If this bloc could be torn could be set into vigorous motion in the broken up permanently, if a two-party system Southern states—Republican fears of being a permanent minority could be allayed.

The risk would be the effect on Northern voters, especially in the cities.

WOULD VOTERS forgive Republicans for soliciting the support of dissident Democrats angry at the Kennedy administration for its civil rights program?

Or would they give Republicans the benefit of the same double vision that has made it possible for Democrats to think of John F. Kennedy and Lyndon B. Johnson as being on the same side of the coin?

In other words, could Republicans get away with a ticket composed of a Northern liberal and a Southern stand-patter?

Would it draw votes in Cleveland, Detroit, Chicago, Philadelphia and Los Angeles? That's the chance Republicans would take.

What About the Subs?

Fidel Castro's apparent readiness to have Soviet jet bombers taken out of Cuba is almost too good to be true.

It matches the almost-too-good-to-be-true compliance with the ultimatum on Soviet missiles in Cuba.

Nobody thought their removal would be as easy to arrange as it turned out to be, either. It was so easy, in fact that the United States felt it must have underestimated its strength in the past and has been feeling good about its new-found power ever since.

But there is a possibility it has been too easy.

THE POSSIBILITY is related to the fact the Soviet Union asserted its potential aggressive power in Cuba in three forms—missiles, bombers and submarines.

It says it has removed the missiles, though the United States has no way of knowing this to be true.

Castro says it's all right with him if it removes the bombers, a statement that means nothing in and by itself.

But no one is saying anything about removing the submarines. If these are submarines capable of firing nuclear missiles, they would be the counterpart of the U.S. Polaris weapons system, designed to replace all other missile systems eventually.

IT COULD BE that under cover of taking its wooden horse out of Troy in separate pieces, the Soviet Union is building a submarine base in Cuba under the noses of the defenders of Guantanamo—a nuclear whale for a wooden horse.

Everybody admits that Russian submarines have been seen in Cuban waters. Everybody knows Russian ships have been busy in the North Atlantic for many months. Everybody in Cuba knows about evidence of heavy construction that has no connection with missile bases or airfields.

Yet nobody talks about submarines. Why?

Rediscovering the Obvious

The United Kingdom would have been enthusiastic about the European Common Market from the word "go" if its farmers hadn't been skeptical.

Now it's the United States whose farmers may have second thoughts about this momentous move to unite Europe on a basis of mutual trade advantage.

The European Common Market has gained fame and respect for the advantages it offers industrialists. Its principal backers are manufacturers who welcome a chance to get across trade barriers with goods that are not duplicated elsewhere.

The politicians who have pushed the idea have had unexpected success selling the idea of an upgraded standard of living through exchange of manufactured goods.

The troublesome side of the community of interests developed and defined by the creators of the European Common Market is agriculture. Farmers as an occupational group all deal with the same essential commodities—grain, meat, dairy products, fruit and fiber.

They do not thrive on competition; they have all the competition they want from natural causes. They do not dream of the advantages of industrial expansion; they have all they can do to hold the existing pace of production. They have little or nothing to gain by stronger foreign competition.

The United States, declares Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman, needs to be concerned about restrictive agriculture policies being developed by the European Common Market. U.S. farmers could get hurt.

This is significant concern by a Cabinet officer. In view of the fact the Common Market has been endorsed by the United States and supported strongly by presidential statements and actions.

It suggests that Washington is about to rediscover the obvious for the ten thousandth time—that no one is interested in giving the United States anything but a kick in the shins.

It's a good idea to keep the kind of check on yourself that you can check on.

"How are you?" quite often leads to people telling you all of their troubles.

There's a lot of beautiful scenery in our country right behind a flock of billboards.

By Truman Twill

In the way the preceding generation lived, thought.

Independent thought and action are the spirit of the times. Today the sons of men who sniggered at William Jennings Bryan are tub-thumping for ideas that would have made Bryan loosen his collar and gasp for air.

On the other hand, men who once shouted themselves giddy for things like free silver begat children who tell you with red-necked vehemence they want to go all the way back to the economics of Grover Cleveland. The wild men of yesterday begat the cautious men of today and vice versa.

Pollsters keep saying the United States is close to 60-40 in party division based on registration. This could be explained by the switch of hundreds of thousands of men and women who grew up in families that espoused what now is the minority when it was the majority—and it was almost continuously from the Civil War to the Great Depression.

It's an interesting possibility. It means, if true, that in the long run the numerically larger party is in the process of becoming numerically smaller as the new generation rejects the parent generation and either goes over to the other party or becomes unaffiliated.

One closing suggestion: If not suitable for a thesis in political science, this might be okay for a thesis in sibling psychology: Why kids turn on their ma and pa.

Cuban Trickery Gave Canadians Real Nightmare

By DAVID LAWRENCE

The worst example of cruelty to human beings since the torture chambers of yesteryears was reported Sunday night.

David Lawrence

the vessel's tanks at Havana with a small amount of oil and a large amount of water.

Five times other ships passed by, either without seeing the Canadian ship's flag of distress or because in the heavy seas they were unable to come in close to the small ship.

FOR NINE DAYS the battle for life went on. Then came the tanker "San Gaspar," which had to leave the Canadian vessel behind but took the grateful seamen into Hamilton Harbor, Bermuda.

Certainly this looks like a piece of human interest news, but it got scant attention from the news broadcasters Sunday night, though it has a far-reaching significance. Here is the dispatch which came over the wires of the United Press International at six o'clock Sunday evening—in ample time for news broadcasts during Sunday night.

"Hamilton, Bermuda—The captain of a Canadian freighter said on his arrival here today that his ship had to be abandoned in a fierce Atlantic storm because Cubans filled most of his fuel tanks with water when he left Havana.

"Capt. Edward Clark, 61, arrived here aboard the tanker "San Gaspar" which picked him and 12 crewmen up from the 'East Star.' "THE 'EAST STAR,' a 155-foot long Canadian freighter, had been drifting fuelless for nine days until its flares were sighted last night by a plane looking for bodies of crewmen from a Greek freighter, Clark said.

"Capt. Clark, of St. Josephs, Newfoundland, said his small ship was full of water in the No. 1 hold, was listing 25 degrees, and waves were breaking over it when help finally came.

"Describing the ordeal as 'the worst experience of my life,' the captain said it all started when the 'East Star' took on what he thought was a full load of fuel for the return trip from Havana.

"He took on 18 tons and 88 gallons of fuel in Havana," he said, "and it was 15 tons water."

"Trembling with emotion, the white-haired captain—a ship's master for 34 years—told how he tried to keep the ship's lights going with what little fuel he had left and how finally radio communications from the 'East Star' failed.

"We cut our engines and drifted with the wind nine days," he said. "This was the night of Nov. 7. We raised the 'LV' (distress flag) in plain sight of five ships but they went right on."

ASKED THE NEXT DAY whether he thought the Cubans had deliberately filled his ship's tanks with water, Capt. Clark said: "Well, in my 34 years as a ship's master, I've never seen anything like it."

Who did it? Was it done by the Cuban government or by Cubans who happen to be bitter against foreigners? Canada in recent months sent supplies to Cuba despite protests from people in this country.

Lately, the Canadian government has lined up with the United States against Castro. The act of sabotage could have been a reprisal against the Canadian government by members of the Castro regime in Havana.

Although the story broke Sunday evening, no comment was forthcoming from Ottawa as to what the Canadian government intends to do about the sabotage. The item should be of interest also to the United States government, which has been trying to "quarantine" Cuba and to persuade other countries to join in what amounts to an economic blockade of the island.

OFFICIALLY a distinction has been made between the shipment of military weapons or equipment and food and non-military supplies. But if the Cubans are sabotaging foreign ships in the harbors of Cuba, many of the seamen of the world will not wish to risk voyages to that country. The seamen's unions in this country have refused to handle cargoes of ships which engage in Cuban trade, but the seamen of other countries have continued to man European ships bound for Cuba.

By so doing, they have left the merchant ships of the Soviet Union and the communist-bloc countries free to carry missiles and military equipment, while the ships of other countries transport food and non-military items to help meet the serious shortages which the Castro regime is experiencing.

In Defense of Philatelists

Enclosed find clippings with regard to stamps on events which your editorial writer appears to think not worth commemorating.

Needless to say, I do not agree. Many will appreciate its being referred to as the "honorable hobby" of philately, in spite of its "inverted" reasoning with regard to the scarcity of errors. Also note the promotion of various African stamps although these are not from Tchad, Dahomey, or Gaboon. No doubt they do need the money; fortunately, the United States Post Office does not. That is why the postal rates are going up on the 7th of January, 1963.

"You'll Just HAVE To Slow Down. Your Blood Pressure's In An Upper Bracket, Too"

White House 'Reception'

By VICTOR RIESEL

Late on the morning of Thursday, Nov. 15, the White House almost was picketed by men who really know how to sling a string of pickets.

There nearly was a "strike"—the first which would have begun inside the Executive Mansion. This would have been a walkout, not by the staff but by special guests.

It all began in the gold and white East Room. President Kennedy had invited some 200 leaders of the nation's unions to come and sign a pledge that they would open their organizations to all minorities.

Many of the labor leaders never had been to the White House. Their appointment was set for 11 o'clock. But so eager were they to see the inside of the home of presidents, they began gathering at 10 a.m.

By 10:30 there were some 60 men, avid to stroll through the first floor and see for the first time the Blue Room, the Gold Room, perhaps the Fish Room or some of the sacred second-floor rooms, such as Lincoln's.

WHEN THEY TRIED to stroll out of the East Room, they found themselves restricted. The Secret Service barred their way out.

They were told they were confined to the East Room until they would be joined by the President for the formal signing of the documents. Someone asked the officer in charge why they were being kept inside the room. Heis reply stirred resentment.

The Secret Service had cleared the floor for other visitors. Who? The Bolshoi Ballet troupe of 120 dancers and their stage people being brought in by His Excellency the Soviet ambassador and Mrs. Anatoly Dobrynin.

The American labor leaders are unaccustomed to such treatment. Furthermore, they were angered by the lack of trust in their sense of discretion. And they were startled by the decision to keep them locked in while the Russian troupe trooped through the White House.

Someone snapped out something like, "The Russians, yet? We, no?" Then one nationally prominent labor leader seriously suggested walking out. There was genuine bitterness. Someone else growled something about striking and let's picket.

Suddenly the Secret Service officer, having departed for a bit, returned and opened the door.

If President Kennedy knew of the incident, he did not learn of it from the labor leaders. Nothing was said during the official meeting with him later. But it is certain that some of them would have walked out.

Inside American labor there is deep distrust of the Soviets. U.S. unions are practically the only national force in our land which has refused to go along with the official people-to-people and cultural exchanges.

They'll support American culture, yes. Russian, no. Many of the labor leaders for example, returned for a two-hour cocktail reception given by Mrs. John Kennedy to raise enthusiasm and funds for the National Culture Center.

There is good reason for the bitterness on the part of U.S. labor, under such leaders as George Meany and the philosophical pace-setter, David Dubinsky, towards the Soviets.

The day before the labor men had gone to the White House, their Executive Council had voted $150,000 to build a new global "A new 'Labor and Social International Confederation of Free Trade Unions in Brussels. The ICTU fights Communist labor on a world front.

Not too long ago the Confederation issued this report to its international leaders, including, of course, the American unionists:

"A new 'Labor and Social Insurance Book' will be issued to the entire working population of the Soviet Zone of Germany in place of the present 'labor book' and insurance card.

"...The labor book' has been in operation in the Soviet Union for many years and was also in use by the Nazi regime in Germany. It is in fact an employment record which enables the authorities to control the whole vocational career and participation in production of the worker. Promotion or downgrading, awards or warnings, production pledges, voluntary unpaid overtime work as well as transfers from one job to another are noted in this book.

"As all of these are directly linked with the workers' political attitude toward the state and the state-employer and are used as a means of coercion, the book will give the police an immediate indication of whether the worker is fully supporting the demands of the regime for extra labor, or whether he is indifferent or a potential opponent."

These cards are linked to newly built Nazi-type barbed wire concentration camps to which anti-Communists are now being sent. They're called Work Education Camps. Dachau and Buchenwald began that way.

Small wonder the American labor leaders refused to be second-class guests in the presence of the representatives of Soviet culture.

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I am 12 years old and I already need advice. The next-door neighbors are feeding my cat, Flossie, and now she is over there all the time and refuses to come home.

These neighbors have a cat of their own and I can't see why they need two cats. Flossie is my only pet. I asked my mother to help me solve this problem but she wasn't in favor of my taking Flossie in the first place and now I have to figure things out for myself.

I went to the lady next door and asked her if she knew why Flossie was not eating at home any more. She said, "Yes, because she beats our cat to the food dish and I wish she'd cut it out."

I put food out for Flossie three times a day. Why should she want to eat over there? Please help me with this problem—CATNAPPED FROM.

Dear From: This is a catastrophe if I ever heard one. Ask the neighbor lady if she will please feed her cat inside the house for a week. Flossie will then be hungry and she'll come home to eat—where she belongs.

Antisocial Clam

Dear Ann: What can I do about a husband who says he doesn't need any friends? He claims he gets enough phony laughter, stale jokes and boring conversation during business hours. When he comes home all he wants to do is relax.

I'm cooped up in the house all day with four youngsters. When evening comes I'm starved for adult conversation—some word from the outside world. He rarely has anything to say. He'd prefer to read a book or look at TV.

I've tried inviting people in for the evening but he appears to be so bored it's embarrassing. On a few occasions he actually left the guests and went to the basement to putter around in his woodwork shop.

He is a good father and a loyal, hard-working husband. We have no financial worries and he doesn't gamble, drink or chase. After reading this letter over I'm almost ashamed to send it. My complaint seems so trivial. Do I have a problem?—SUBURBIA.

Dear Suburbia: Yes, you have a problem. Your husband is antisocial and he'll probably never change, so change your domestic program to fit his personality.

Make arrangements to have a woman in to care for the children a couple of afternoons a week so you can get out of the house. Join service groups and become active. Invite women to your home for committee meetings—or just visiting. In other words, get your adult conversation and the word from the outside world during the daytime.

Child Driver

Dear Ann: I am depending on you to tell me if I am wrong. This problem concerns my husband's attitude toward our young children.

During the summer months our youngsters picked beans to earn extra money. My husband said if they worked hard they could earn enough to buy new winter coats.

The 11-year-old earned his winter coat and money to spare. The 8-year-old failed to earn enough for a coat. The 5-year-old did about the same as the 8-year-old.

My husband says the two younger ones will have to wear their old coats this winter. I hate to see them to school looking shabby. I feel we should add to what they earned and buy them new coats. He says it's a sure way to spoil them rotten. What do you say?—DISTRESSED MOTHER.

Dear Mother: I say your husband makes Simon Legree look like a living doll. The little ones are too young to be expected to earn coat money.

It's admirable that they are being taught the relation between earning and spending, but that skinflint of yours had better let the moths out of his change purse and buy the little kids new winter coats.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Salem News, enclosing a stamp ed, self-addressed envelope.

Mrs. David C. Reinehr

Carol Lynn Davis Wed To David C. Reinehr

Nuptial vows were exchanged at 2 p.m. Saturday in the sanctuary of the Damascus Methodist Church uniting in marriage Miss Carol Lynn Davis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Davis of RD 1, Salem, and David Charles Reinehr, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry C. Reinehr of 228 Vine St., Columbiana.

Dr. Paul E. Froman officiated at the chancel which was decorated with palms, ferns and twin vases of white mums. The decor was lighted by white cathedral tapers in tall seven branch candelabra.

The traditional wedding music was sung by Mrs. Donald Hough and Mrs. Robert Riebeck presided at the organ console.

The bride was escorted by her father down an aisle whose pews ends were tied with white satin bows and given in marriage by her parents.

Her floor length gown of thread lace over taffeta had been worn by her sister at her wedding two years ago. Fashioned with Sabrina neckline, short sleeves with matching mitts and fitted bodice, the full bouffant skirt designed with overskirt of tulle ruffles had a matching taffeta cummerbund and bow detail at back.

Her fingertip veil of silk illusion was caught to a Swedish crown of pearls and crystals and she carried a cascade arrangement of white roses, feathered carnations and stephanotis.

The bride's sister, Mrs. Charles Clark, was matron of honor, and wore a street length gown of burnt orange velvet with scooped neckline, fitted bodice and skirt of unpressed pleats. Her headpiece was a rose of matching velvet graced with a circular flutter veil and she carried a basket of yellow and white mums with brown velvet ribbons.

Bridesmaids, Mrs. Robert Davis and Miss Janet Mincks wore gowns fashioned identical to that of the matron of honor but in limepeel color.

James Reinehr of Mundelein, Ill., served his brother as best man and ushering were Jack Sittler of Columbiana and Willis Smith of New Waterford.

A dress of teal blue brocade was worn by the bride's mother and Mrs. Reinehr wore a light gold wool fur trimmed suit. Both mothers had corsages of yellow and orange rose buds.

Reception Follows

A white satin cloth covered the bride's table at the reception in the church social room following the ceremony. A wedding bell topped the three-tier wedding cake which was surrounded by yellow and white baby mums marked the center and corners of the table and the decor was lighted with white candles in an epergne-candelabra filled with yellow and white mums. Color was added by the bouquets of the attendants.

The 125 guests present were registered by Mrs. William Davis and serving were Miss Jetty Liggett and Mrs. Richard Firth of Lisbon; Mrs. Donald Hoffmaster of East Palestine, Mrs. Jack Kerppes and Miss Twila Shinn of Salem.

The couple will live at 631 N. Ellsworth Ave., Salem, following their return from a honeymoon to Niagara Falls and upper New York State. For her trip the bride wore a sheath dress of black wool and the corsage from her bouquet.

Mrs. Reinehr is a graduate of Goshen Union High School and is employed as out-patient clerk by the Salem City Hospital.

Mr. Reinehr is a graduate of Columbiana High School and is a bodyman employed by Columbiana Buick-Oldsmobile Company.

The parents of the bridegroom were hosts at the rehearsal party Friday evening in their home at which time the bridal pair presented their attendants with gifts.

University Women's Unit Has Program

Mrs. Richard L. Cook presided when members of the Salem Branch of the American Association of University Women met recently in the community room of the Farmers National Bank.

Mrs. William Baker, chairman of the membership committee, reported that applications for membership have been approved for the following: Mrs. Francis L. Daly, Mrs. James R. Fisher and Mrs. John H. Kandert (Youngstown University); Mrs. John R. Fischrupp, Mrs. James H. Paulino and Mrs. Norman M. Weaver (Kent State); Mrs. Ralph W. Firestone and Mrs. Leroy C. Pool (Ohio University); and Mrs. William D. Talbott (Muskingum University).

Two memberships have been transferred from the Youngstown to the Salem chapter, Mrs. Paul E. Smith and Mrs. David Ohl.

Reports were given by Mrs. Cook on recent meetings she attended in Warren and Youngstown.

"National Goals in Education" was the program topic whose discussion was led by Miss Nellie Glass. Stressed was the increased need for more teachers to meet the population growth and the need to raise the standards of recruitment and training of teachers.

Suggestions were made for relieving our overburdened teachers of routine duties to permit more time for actual instruction and individual attention. For the student, the first goal of educators is equality of opportunity and encouragement to develop whatever potentialities he may possess.

The discussion covered education at all levels from kindergarten and ungraded primaries through graduate schools, also education outside the formal system for individual fulfillment and a continuance of personal mental growth.

Mrs. Frank Tarr, Mrs. Harry Loria and Miss Barbara Cobourn will be in charge of the dinner meeting at 6:30 p.m. Dec. 19 at the Lape Hotel. Reservations must be made with Mrs. Tarr before Dec. 15.

Beauty A LA MODE

GLOWING COLOR

Current moods of rich color and quiet elegance are beautifully expressed in latest coils of fabric-shades and fur-hues. . . black velvet, blonde chiffon, hazel mink, Java sable. The contours of the coils have also gone more subtle. They're shaped much closer to the head and having a slight suggestion of swing in the styling. Often the hair shade will prompt the silhouette.

You too can hop on the beauty band wagon with a brand new hair styling prompted by a change of coloring.

Deceased Salem Educator Honored By University

An educator who began his teaching career at Salem Junior High School in the early 1940's was honored posthumously this week by Cornell University where he had been a professor for 16 years.

A portrait of Professor James Campbell of the New York State School of Industrial and Labor Relations has been hung in the halls of the school where he headed the Office of Resident Instruction until he died suddenly March 8 at the age of 43.

The Irish-born professor, the son of Mrs. James Campbell of 520 E. 3rd St., emigrated to America as a small child with his family and lived in Pittsburgh and Salem where he attended elementary and secondary schools.

After he graduated in 1940 from Wittenburg College, where he majored in mathematics, Campbell returned to Salem where he taught in junior high for 1½ years before leaving for a four-year stint in the Air Force.

His widow and 17-year-old son live in Ithaca. He has a sister, Mrs. Ralph W. Allen of Alliance.

said they would withdraw to the disputed McMahon Line and then pull back an additional 12½ miles.

Peking also proposed that, after lesser Indian and Chinese officials worked out details of the demilitarized zone, Chinese Premier Chou En-lai and Nehru meet in Peking or New Delhi to negotiate a border settlement.

Initial appraisals of the Chinese offered indicated the Chinese appeared willing to withdraw from a large sector of India's northeast frontier district, where they stand poised at the gateway to the fertile and populous Assam plains, but were not giving up any important ground in Ladakh far to the west.

Peking seemed ready—in future negotiations—to give up its gains in the northeast in return for strategically valuable Ladakh, across which they have put a road connecting Tibet and the western Chinese province of Sinkiang.

Nehru rejected a 1959 proposal for such a territorial swap.

County Planning Group Hears Speaker

John Mitchell, extension rural sociologist at Ohio State University, explained how planning commissions operate when he spoke at a meeting Monday evening in the county extension offices at Lisbon attended by 16 members of the Columbiana County planning Study Group.

Floyd Lower, county extension agent and temporary chairman of the group, presided. He said the League of Women Voters of Salem will sponsor Walter Bobotek of Akron, director of the Akron Planning Commission, as guest speaker at a meeting Nov. 29 at the Y.W.C.A. in Salem, and the county study group has been invited.

The county group will meet again in December, Lower said.

Boys, Girls Staters Address Rotarians

Salem High School students who attended Buckeye Boys State and Buckeye Girls State this summer told of their experiences there when they were luncheon guests of the Rotary Club at noon Tuesday in the Memorial Building.

Students who attended are Jean Theiss, Peggy Gross, Ray Rogers, Chip Perrault, Bill Beery and Darryle Everett.

NO CLUES FOUND

Police have found no clues in continuing their investigation of a 400 safe-cracking at the Metropolitan Insurance Co. office and an office looting at the Eagles lodge Sunday.

Another weekend burglary not reported until today was the breaking and entering of the Lowry Supply Co. near the Kroger store on E. State St., where a brief case was taken from the office.

Doors were pried open at all three places to gain entrance.

Mayor Cranmer attempted to reach Mrs. Coyne by telephone to request her to sign the certificate Tuesday night. When attempts to reach the auditor failed, the council went as far as it could legally go with the legislation without the auditor's signature, giving the legislation three readings, and then tabling it until today's special meeting.

President Joseph instructed Council Clerk Charles Alexander to draft a letter to Mrs. Coyne advising her of today's special council meeting and requesting that she be present.

By statute, an elected city employee is required to attend a meeting upon the request of the legislative authority.

Mayor Vetoes Ordinance

In other council action Tuesday night, Mayor Cranmer vetoed an ordinance passed by councilmen on Nov. 13 to retain Attorney John E. Bauknecht of East Palestine as special counsel to City Auditor Coyne in a mandamus action brought against her for payment of city parking meters.

In vetoing the ordinance, Mayor Cranmer commented: "I feel that taxpayers' money spent for attorney fees on this bill is foolish. The council has stated that this is a 'moral obligation.' If council's action as the legislative branch of the city government does not have the power to govern the city, then why have a council?"

"Council's action has been to pay $1.50 per meter per month until the bill is paid, with no interest needed to be paid by the city. The Magee-Hale Park-O-Meter has been very patient on this account and should be paid with out further hassle or delay."

Councilman Charles Gibbs asked council to reconsider the ordinance vetoed by the mayor.

"I feel the auditor is entitled to counsel," Gibbs declared, moving that the ordinance be passed over the mayor's veto.

However, the ordinance failed to get the required two thirds of council's approval for passage over the mayor's veto. Voting for the ordinance were Councilmen John E. Rance and Ralph Zimmerman. Voting against the ordinance were Councilmen Aldom, Harold J. Astory and Albert Lesch.

With six councilmen present, the vote was three to three.

the high school.

Executive head Clinton Heacock was authorized to schedule meetings with teachers and administrators this year in order to review the current curriculum and education materials. Purpose of these sessions will be to try to improve educational standards.

Heacock hopes to have the administrator-teacher recommendations in effect by September, 1963.

The two stairways and the entrance to the high school will be covered with terrazzo rather than tile, the board decided.

The group received notice that the federal government will take action to dispose of a quantity of war surplus material stored for some time in the bus garage at Beloit.

Permission was granted to Heacock to attend the convention of the American Association of School Administrators Feb. 16-20 in Atlantic City.

Leland Glass, board vice president, Norman Barnett, president, and Heacock, who attended the Columbus meeting last week of the Ohio School Board Association, reported on the new OSBA recommendation asking for increased money for schools from the legislature with less burden on local constituents.

All members were present including Barnett, Glass, Richard Burton, Dr. Fred Jose and John Denny.

LISBON — John E. Adams, 18, Lisbon RD 1, was fined $5 and costs Tuesday by County Judge James L. MacDonald for driving a motor vehicle with defective brakes. He was cited by the State Highway Patrol.

Five Sites Under Study for Western Reserve School

BERLIN CENTER — Five possible locations of the new Western Reserve High School are being studied by members of the district Board of Education following an architect's discussion of the sites at the board's meeting Monday night.

Locations being considered are the four parcels formed by the intersection of Route 224 and Duck Creek Rd. and a farm about one mile west of that crossroads.

The board will convene at a special session Nov. 28 to give further deliberation to the choice, according to president Francis Miller.

Any of the sites will place the new 300-pupil school within ready access of students coming from either Berlin or Ellsworth Townships, which comprise the district.

The school will become a reality following the overwhelming approval of the district's voters of a $590,000 bond issue Nov. 6. Voters gave the school a further financial boost by approving by a 67 per cent affirmative vote a 3.3 mill levy for operations.

Although the board regularly meets the third Wednesday of each month, the November meeting was held on Monday because of the advent of Thanksgiving and the basketball preview to be held at Mineral Ridge tonight.

Columbiana Council Okays Trial Parking

COLUMBIANA — Village Council Tuesday sanctioned trial parking on north side of E. Park Ave. from the square to Elm St.

Approval was granted following a request from Fred Koch, owner of Koch Motors of 14 E. Park Ave., who stated that the space was needed for customer parking.

Parking was prohibited there in 1950 when Rts. 14 and 46 went through town. However, with the state routes relocated, the ordinance no longer applies, councilmen agreed.

The street committee reported that at a special meeting with local contractors recently, a tentative standard was set up for new streets. Bases and curbs were deemed necessary installation before streets can be dedicated, with paving of the streets to be left up to home owners.

The committee will hold another meeting to draft the recommendations for a new ordinance.

Permission was given to the First Christian Church to construct a concrete walkway across an unimproved section of N. Middle St. from the side entrance of the church to the Dixon School property line, with the understanding that the sidewalk be removed if Council so orders.

Clerk George Snook announced that 40 per cent of the fire calls during the year have been from Fairfield Township. The fire contract with the township, renewed at the last Council meeting, provides that township trustees will pay $60 per truck and $2.50 per hour a man for fire calls in the township.

PUT OUT MINOR FIRE

City firemen were called to the McAllister Farm Market at 739 E. State St. at 3:05 a.m. today when a short in the electric fan of a space heater caused a small fire. The fire was extinguished before any damage was caused.

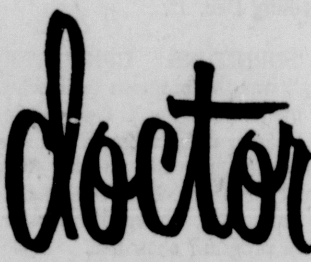

Steel Rips Gas Line As Truck Upsets

A York, Pa., truck driver escaped injury when his tractor-trailer outfit, loaded with steel pipe, upset this morning at 4:50 on Route 62, one mile west of Salem, and broke an Ohio Fuel Gas Company service line.

The driver, Clarence Mellott, 44, told investigators from the Lisbon barracks of the state highway patrol, he had to pull suddenly to the right at the hillcrest near Damascus Rd. to avoid slow moving traffic. As the heavily loaded van plunged off the pavement the pipes ripped from the bed and struck the service line that passes under Route 62 and leads to the DeCort Bank Factory. Mellott was not cited.

The patrol said it took three hours to remove the truck from the scene. The mass of pipe was being hauled this morning so the gas company servicemen could repair the damaged line.

Firemen from the Salem department were called to the scene to stand by.

Lions Entertain Unbeaten Packers Thanksgiving Day

Expect 55,000 Sell Out Crowd

Green Bay Defeated Detroit 9-7 Oct. 7

By JERRY GREEN

Associated Press Sports Writer
DETROIT (AP) — A hopeless, frightening task, defeating and overtaking the unbeaten Green Bay Packers? It isn't so, claim the Detroit Lions.

"We should have beat them last time and I think we're going to win this time," said fullback Ken Webb after the Lions' completed a shivering, hurry-up workout Tuesday.

"Sure, my boys have been pointing for this game ever since the last one," said Coach George Wilson, soundly criticized by his own Detroit players after the Lions fell 9-7 to the Packers Oct. 7. The long-awaited rematch between the reigning National Football League champions from Green Bay, current Western Division leaders, and their closest pursuers from Detroit is Thursday at Tiger Stadium. Tickets have been as scarce as Packer defeats for the last month and a standing-room crowd of 55,000 will attend the annual Thanksgiving Day game.

It also will be seen by a national television audience via CBS starting at noon EST.

None of the bitterness has left the Lions since their last meeting with the Packers. Detroit was leading 7-0 with time running out, when Wilson told Milt Plum to pass, hoping to secure a first down.

Receiver Terry Barr slipped, Herb Adderley intercepted and returned the ball 41 yards. The Packers pulled it out on Paul Hornung's 21-yard field goal.

The Lions' offense since then has sputtered and their defense has carried them. They lost once more, by three points to the New York Giants, and now have an 8-2 record.

The proud Packers, shocked by being held without a touchdown by the Lions, meanwhile gained momentum and rolled to a 10-0 record with four games remaining. Last Sunday they blitzkrieged through the NFL was slowed a bit when they escaped with a 17-13 decision over Baltimore.

On this squeaker, the Lions have built up their hopes the Packers can be overtaken.

At Green Bay, Coach Vince Lombardi thought, perhaps the Baltimore game was the result of week-in, week-out pressure. "You've got to remember that we've had a lot of pressure," said Lombardi. "We haven't had any other flat games and I hope we haven't reached a downward point now."

Detroit needs not only a victory Thursday — but outside help against Green Bay in the final three weeks to throw the Western Division into a tie. And, of course, the Lions would have to win their final three games after to make it stick.

Broncos Face Titans Squad Thursday

DENVER (AP)—Denver's once-highly ranked Broncos face a do-or-die situation against the New York Titans in the only Thanksgiving Day contest of the American Football League.

The Broncos, beaten in three of their last four games, may try to break up the threat of New York passes by shifting Jerry Tarr, a rookie who was a crack hurdler at Oregon, to defensive halfback.

Coach Jack Faulkner said Tarr's speed may help to reduce the threat of long scoring passes by New York. Last Sunday the Dallas Texans broke up a close game with 17 points in the final period, scoring touchdowns on plays of 92 and 48 yards. In each case the receiver just outran the Bronco secondary.

Denver, now in second place in the Western Division with a 7-4 mark, must win the Thanksgiving Day game as well as its final two contests at Dallas and Houston to hope for even a tie for the division title. The Titans are last in the East.

Pont First Led, Will Now Guide Miami In Bowl

OXFORD, Ohio (AP) — Coach John Pont, a star quarterback on Miami's last post-season bowl team 12 years ago, has led the Redskins to another bowl bid by moulding one of the school's most explosive football teams.

The records show Miami's offense potent enough to roll up 316 yards per game and 220 points in 10 games—only six points shy of the school's last undefeated squad, the 1955 team.

The ironic part of Miami's bid to the Tangerine Bowl against Houston Dec. 22 is that they go without the championship of their own conference—the Mid-American. Miami's lone loss this year, to Ohio University, and a tie with Bowling Green helped Bowling Green take the honors.

The big record breaker this fall was Bob Jencks, 6-foot-5 senior end, standout at pass-catching and place-kicking.

Jencks tied a collegiate field goal mark with 17 in his career, and his 177 points eclipsed Pont's Miami mark by 15. He set Miami records for a single season of 8 field goals and 426 yards on passes.

CLEVELAND (AP)—Jim Ray Smith's announcement that he won't be back next season highlights a matter to which the Cleveland Browns' staff is giving considerable thought these days—the annual draft of talent from the nation's colleges.

Smith, 30, said Tuesday he is retiring at the end of this season, his seventh in the National Football League. The departure of the big left guard will leave a hole in the offensive line that will be hard to fill.

Smith said he is leaving because his commercial real estate business in Dallas, Tex., requires year-round attention.

Mike McCormack, 32 and in his 10th year in the NFL, also has talked about retiring on previous occasions, although he is having a good year this season.

Thus coach Paul Brown probably will be looking for offensive linemen at the NFL draft. He is expected to be looking also for a big, speedy back.

LEICESTER, England — Jose Gonzales, 182½, on disqualification over Billy Walker, 192, England, 3.

NORTH DARTMOUTH, Mass. — Bob Foxmire, 145, East Boston, outpointed Gaylord Barnes, 150, Trenton, N.J., 10.

HONOLULU — Hurricane Kid, 153½, San Francisco, outpointed Rudolph Bent, 154½, British Honduras, 10.

BEAUMONT, Tex. — Lou Gutierrez, 160, Nicaragua, knocked out George Lee, 160, New Orleans, 10.

NEW YORK — Teddy Pagan, 159, Puerto Rico, outpointed Willie Davis, 159½, Philadelphia, 8.

was dug on his own 5 as Navy lined up in the closing minutes of the game last Saturday against the Trojans at Los Angeles. The Middles were on the march and seemed on the verge of wiping out a 13-6 Trojan lead.

Instead Navy fullback Pan Donnelly fumbled going into the end zone and Southern Cal recovered. It helped Donnelly had been hit hard by quarterback Pete Beathard, but it took Kirner's tackle to jar the ball loose.

The score remained 13-6 and the victory, No. 8 for the unbeaten Trojans, helped them gain the No. 1 spot in the national Associated Press poll this week.

It was the second straight week that a Southern California player has earned Lineman of the Week honors. A guard who was Damon Bame, a guard who played a spectacular game in USC's 39-14 triumph over Stanford that virtually sewed up the Rose Bowl for the Trojans.

Wittenburg In Tie For AP Survey Lead

Giant-killer Wittenburg pulled into a tie for first place with Florida A&M today in The Associated Press small college football poll, each with 68 points.

Southern Mississippi remained in third place and Central Oklahoma stayed in fourth place in the poll with 51 and 40 points, respectively.

Texas A&M moved up two notches to fill out the top five. Illinois, Lenoir Rhyne, St. John's (Minn.), Fresno State and South-east Louisiana.

Junior Baseball Auxiliary Active Here

The Mothers Auxiliary of the Salem Junior Baseball League, a busy "behind the scenes" organization, has been very helpful to the junior baseball program in the two short years that it has been functioning.

The group has given $2,800 to the league, which included a $1,000 donation this year. The money is used to help with expenses for the baseball program. The contributions are possible principally through the support of the citizens of Salem.

Officers elected for the coming year include (above, l. to r.) Mrs. William Washington, board of directors; Mrs. Paul Fast, vice president; Mrs. William Sechler, president; Mrs. Gus Schuster, secretary; and Mrs. C. R. McNutt, treasurer.

Texas Chosen In TV Holiday Game

USC Is Favored Over UCLA; LSU Gets Nod Over Tulane

By HAROLD CLAASSEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Picking this week's college football winners out of the second helping of turkey stuffing. Last weekend the figures were 42-12 for .777 which left the seasonal totals at 362-105 for .776.

Southern California over UCLA: The Trojans need this one to insure their Jan. 1 Rose Bowl engagement. Southern Cal has two quarterbacks of almost equal ability plus Hal Bedsole, a pass catching end.

Minnesota over Wisconsin: The Gophers can't go to the Rose Bowl again but a triumph here would clinch the Big Ten title for them. It will be a bruiser.

Texas over Texas A&M: Your Thanksgiving Day TV morsel. The Longhorns have too much balance. Arkansas over Texas Tech: The Porkers sail into a bowl picture at the expense of the hapless Tech Raiders.

Louisiana State over Tulane: This has been a traditional game for years but in recent years the only tradition about it is that LSU doesn't lose against the Greens.

Penn State over Pittsburgh: Army beat Penn State and lost to Pittsburgh but the pick here is Penn State with relative ease.

Oklahoma over Nebraska: The revived Sooners have manhandled their last five opponents 176-7. Arizona State over Arizona: State has the better record despite a tougher schedule.

Dartmouth over Princeton: Bill King and Don McKinnon are two of the best football players in the East. Both wear Dartmouth uniforms.

Duke over North Carolina: A victory or a tie gives the Blue Devils a third straight Atlantic Coast Conference championship. Michigan State over Illinois: If the Spartans learn how to keep the ball without fumbling the score could climb high.

Missouri over Kansas: Johnny Roland gives the Tigers an edge in the midland's version of the Harvard-Yale game.

Washington over Washington State: The Huskies still could squeeze into the Rose Bowl if they conquer their cross-state rivals.

Miami over Northwestern: Big Ten teams and they are proud of their George Mira, a pass-tossing the Wildcat line-up, it should be a pitchers' battle. This is a Friday night affair.

Line Coach Charles Donaldson of Western University, Morgantown, W. Va., will be the guest speaker. The club will furnish meat, rolls and beverage for the dinner.

It was announced that the country music program sponsored by the Athletic Association will be held Nov. 30 at the school. George Dunn reported the club's spring festival has been scheduled for June 3-8 at the school. The Beaver Local Band Mothers will hold a benefit at the East Liverpool Market Building Dec. 3-8.

The club voted to buy two basketball hoops for Rogers Elementary School.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Berger.

President Steve Barborak presided. Prayer was given by George Dunn.

The next meeting will be Dec. 4 at the school.

Frank Sturgeon, assistant principal, reviewed plans for the annual football banquet which will be held next Wednesday at 6:30 p.m. at the school.

Yankees' Mantle Named MVP In AL

Page 7 WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 21, 1962
Richardson Chosen 2nd; Killebrew Is 3rd

CHELSEA, Okla. (AP) — The only flaw in winning the American League's most valuable player award, Yankee slugger Mickey Mantle said after his third honor, is that it kept teammate Bobby Richardson from winning.

The 1962 award, Mantle said after his selection Tuesday, was "the biggest thrill I've had" because he didn't expect to win. Mantle was hobbled by injuries which nearly ended his playing career.

"I thought Bobby would win," Mantle said. "He had a real good year."

Mantle was on a Tulsa golf course when a newsman gave him the news.

"It was really a big surprise," he said, "but a pleasant one."

There was consolation in that Richardson, the Yankee second baseman, finished second in the voting. Mantle got 234 votes, Richardson 152.

Mantle had a relatively lean year with only 30 home runs and 89 runs batted in, but he still was voted the AL most valuable player in the most one-sided runaway since Mantle himself won the first of his three MVP awards in 1956.

While he was out of the line-up, the Yankees played only .500 ball and tumbled to fourth place.

The voting is done by two Baseball Writers Association members from each major league city. A first place vote is worth 14 points. Thes it runs nine for second, eight for third and so on down to one for tenth.

Mantle was the only player named on all 20 ballots, and 12 of the 20 picked him for first place. Five picked Richardson for first, while one picked Harmon Killebrew of the Minnesota Twins and one selected rookie Tom Tresh.

Killebrew finished third with 99 points.

Simply means rabbits will take to groundhog holes, pheasants will take to their heels before the take-off out of gun range.

After all, wild birds and wild animals have an instinct of survival. They soon learn the explosive sound of firearms means death to them and they know how to keep out of gun range or go into hiding. Otherwise a few shooting seasons could mean extermination. So far we have had plenty of seed left for the following year and hunting goes on as usual when the season opens.

It's hard to understand why any man that calls himself a sportsman would stoop to shooting the "goose that lays the golden eggs". Each hen shot means no reproduction from that source.

The grouse hunters are bagging a few but hoping for a tracking snow. Grouse like to hide under a grapevine entanglement or fallen tree tops after they have had their morning feed.

I thought my mocking bird had taken off for the deep south as I hadn't heard one note out of him since the last week in August when he quit singing. Much to my surprise he is still sticking around and I have spotted him several times last week in front of my home. I saw him first during a snowstorm last March so maybe he intends to winter over. This is one bird I intend to keep well fed.

NORMAN, Okla. (AP) — Oklahoma fullback Jim Grisham got quite a jolt Tuesday when he walked into the Sooner ticket office to pick up a pair of tickets for his high school football coach.

"About the time I walked in," Grisham said, "Mr. (Harold) Reid, (OU ticket manager) shouted from his office 'Grisham's been named Back Of The Week.'"

"I was really surprised. I had no idea I would win it," the 205-pound Olney, Tex., sophomore said.

The honor went to Grisham for his dazzling performance in Oklahoma's 13-0 victory over Missouri last Saturday. The big Texan gained 116 yards, five more than Missouri gained, and was sent in as a linebacker whenever Missouri threatened to get a drive going.

Grisham said he felt it was his best game of the season.

"I believe the whole team did better against them. That's the only reason I got this (back of the week)," he said.

New York Sale Is Set Friday

Frank Leahy Will Coach Titans' Team

NEW YORK (AP)—The sale of the New York Titans of the American Football League probably will be concluded today or Friday, but whether former Notre Dame Coach Frank Leahy will pilot the team remains a question.

Titan owner Harry Wismer said Leahy will be head coach and general manager.

Leahy said he would be advisory coach and general manager.

Wismer, who maintains he has lost $1,750,000 during the 2½ years he has owned the club, said he hopes to sell the club to a group headed by Leahy for about $1.5 million.

"I don't get that advisory coach stuff," said Wismer. "He will be head coach as well as general manager if his group buys the club—like Paul Brown is at Cleveland and Vince Lombardi is at Green Bay."

But in Shreveport, La., where he addressed a Touchdown Club dinner Tuesday night, Leahy said he had some friends who might finance the purchase. He didn't name them.

Said Mort Liftin, Wismer's attorney: "We've been negotiating for the last week or so with several groups and I would say we are close to a deal with a new group, all New York people and, I'm sure, acceptable to the AFL. The group wants Leahy to become general manager and coach."

"Most of the basic terms for the sale have been agreed upon. I feel there is a good possibility of closing the deal either today or Friday."

Any sale would have to be approved by the AFL executive committee.

The Titans, currently in last place in the Eastern Division with a 4-6 record, were forced to get an advance from the league to meet the players' last payroll.

Hints From Heloise

By HELOISE CRUSE

DEAR HELOISE: For those who sew but never seem to get sleeves in neatly, gather the sleeves in place before sewing sleeves in place before sewing up the side seam!

This will enable you to work with a flat surface and the little tucks in the gathered section are easily avoided. Then . . . sew the of the sleeve and continuing back on down to the waist.

This is for the farmer's wife who puts peas in the freezer. Peas can be shelled very fast with a wringer-type washer. Put a pan on one side of the wringer to catch the peas and the pods go on through. You will think peas will go through the wringer and be mashed the moment the pod hits the wringer, but they will pop out before they go through. A very fast job can be done this way.

EARL BROOKES.
DEAR HELOISE: I just discovered that isopropyl rubbing alcohol on cotton will quickly remove the black marks on my floors. I wipe with the grain of the wood, and work quickly.

HELENA HEAL.
DEAR HELOISE: The cord on an electric iron will not drag across the ironing board if you will slip it through a large safety pin—pinned to the cover at the square end of the ironing board.

When women who sew are finished with a pattern from which they have cut material, I find that the pieces of a pattern will go back into an envelope more neatly if they are ironed and then folded a little smaller than the original crease and envelope. I have heard many people complain about being unable to fit patterns back into the envelopes—can't quite understand it!

You'll never shed another tear when peeling, chopping or slicing onions if you place them in a plastic, airtight bag, close the top with a rubber band, and store them in your refrigerator. Cold onions cannot make you cry.

It's much easier to scrape paint off glass if you will do it before the paint is fully dry. I find that this seems to work best if I wait about one hour after I have finished painting. I keep a dish of turpentine and a rag handy to clean off my scraper after the paint accumulates on it.

WE KNOW 200 HAPPY BOWLERS

Because that is how many bowling balls we have drilled at this fall. Maybe we are exaggerating a little to think that they are all grinning from ear to ear, but owning your own custom-fitted "Brunswick" sure beats following a blood hound through the ball racks trying to find number 23 which some bachelor just grabbed.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish in this manner to express our thanks for the cards, flowers and prayers that were given during the illness and death of our wife and mother.

For their compassion our thanks to Mrs. O. A. Turner and L. L. Bernstein of Youngstown and Mrs. H. F. Hoprich and R. J. McConner of Salem.

An especial thanks to all nurses and staffs of the Youngstown Southside Hospital and the Salem Central Clinic for their unfailing kindness and gentleness with her.

To Stark Memorial and all our friends and neighbors for their sympathy and understanding.

Also to Pastor and Mrs. R. D. Freeman, Pastor George Neuman for their consoling prayers and services at this sad time.

Church Group Elects Officers At Meeting In Hanoverton

HANOVERTON — Paul Palmer, chairman of the nominating committee, presented the slate of candidates for election at the 1962 annual congregational and corporate meeting recently in the United Presbyterian Church.

Elected were Herman McDevitt and Robert Oyer, three-year term as elders; Raymond Scott and Lee Bowman, three-year term on board of deacons; Lloyd Hays, re-elected treasurer and Gary Blythe, re-elected chief usher, both for one-year terms.

Paul Young and Merle Devitt were elected as canvass directors for 1963. The nominating committee which was named to be presented at the 1963 annual meeting comprised of Dean King, Raymond Russell, Van Mills, Mrs. Alvin Marquis and Mrs. John Oyer.

SIX GIRLS were dinner guests recently when Mrs. Walter Watson entertained in honor of the 14th birthday of her daughter, Cheryl. Debbie Sanor, Lynn Kelly, Beverly Rummel, Marilyn Gard, Judy Zimmerman and Joyce John attended.

Nite-Owl Club met recently with Mrs. Mildred Shaffer. Mrs. Aldeline Haupt received the door prize.

Mrs. Evelyn Bernet conducted the business meeting when tentative plans were made toward the Christmas meeting in December. Mrs. Haupt and Mrs. Margaret Delp were named to find a place for dinner to precede the meeting at the home of Mrs. Dorothy Delp.

A gift exchange will be held. A nominating committee named to prepare a slate of officers for election at the December meeting is comprised of Mrs. Shaffer and Mrs. Bertha Burnham. Refreshments were served by the hosts.

SPECIAL PRIZES were given away with game awards at a card party at St. Philip Neri Church recently.

Receiving prizes were Arthur Wernet Mrs. Clyde Manly, Arthur Hassely, Mrs. Lillian Myers, David Frankovich, Alfred Andrus, Lee Wilson, Janice Bethel, Edward Kibler and Mrs. Harry Wickham.

Game awards in "euchre" and "500" were given to Mrs. Ray Scott, Carl Kibler, Mrs. Elmer Altenhof and William Humphrey. Men of the parish sponsor the annual Thanksgiving party. The next benefit will be held Nov. 29.

Recent guests in the Mervin Andre home were Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Andre of Sebring, Mr. and Mrs. Duane Lutz of Kensington, Harvey Hawkins of Columbiana, and Mrs. Homer Hawkins of RD, Kensington.

Guests in the Walter Watson Jr. home recently were Mr. and Mrs. Walter Watson, Sr. and Mrs. Betty Jakobuski of Highlandtown and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Watson of Hanoverton. The occasion marked the birthdays of the junior and senior Watsons and Cheryl Watson.

WILLIAM McGRANAHAN who underwent knee surgery at Crile Hospital in Cleveland recently, is improving.

Miss Honey Lee Smalley of Ravenna, and fiancée, Thomas Burnham, visited in the Harrison Burnham home recently.

Mr. and Mrs. George Stepanic have moved from the Lindesmith apartment to Kensington.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert McClure and children of Celina visited recently with friends here. The McClures are former Hanoverton residents.

No Mail Deliveries Thanksgiving Day

The Salem Post Office will be closed all day Thursday in observance of Thanksgiving. There will be no delivery of mail, either city or rural, but specials will be delivered and outgoing mail will be dispatched.

In line with the revised hours of window service the post office will be open until 5 p.m. on Wednesday, reminded Postmaster Ray Reasbeck.

The postal station located in the Lease drug store will be open Thursday.

County Dairymen To Elect Officers

Election of officers will be held at the Columbiana County Dairymen's Council meeting Monday at 8 p.m. in the county extension offices in Lisbon according to Don Myers, county extension agent in agriculture.

Donald Rupert of New Waterford RD 1, chairman, will preside over the meeting which will include a membership report and future planning. Dr. D. J. Kern of Homeworth, state area veterinarian will report on the brucellosis and tuberculosis tests being made in Columbiana County.

MEETING CANCELED

Newcomers Club meeting scheduled for tonight has been postponed until 8 p.m. Nov. 28 at the Ohio Fuel Gas Company.

Mrs. Don Rambacker was hostess to the board of the club recently, with Mrs. Marilyn Dillon as co-hostess. Plans were discussed concerning the Christmas banquet Dec. 19.

George Westinghouse invented the air brake.

JOURNAL ENTRY

IN THE MATTER OF THE ELIMINATION OF THE EXISTING GRADE CROSSING OF THE TRACKS OF THE PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD COMPANY AND 11.45 WEST STATE STREET IN U.S. ROUTE NO. 62, SECTION THE CITY OF SALEM, COLUMBIANA COUNTY, OHIO.

WHEREAS, plans and specifications for the elimination of the grade crossing of the tracks of The Pennsylvania Railroad Company on U.S. Route No. 62, Section 11.45 West State Street in the City of Salem, Columbiana County, Ohio, have been placed on file this 19th day of November, 1962, in the office of W. P. McKenna, Division Engineer for Columbiana County, Highway Garage, New Philadelphia, Ohio, for the examination of all persons interested, and

WHEREAS said plans show all changes of grade and the location of the highway involved in the improvement, all private property to be taken, the grade crossing elimination to be constructed, the portions of any highway street or grade to be vacated, and all other matters and details relating to the proposed improvement as required by law, also the general specifications under which the improvement is to be carried out,

NOW THEREFORE, I do hereby determine and declare it to be my intention to make such improvement in accordance with said plans and specifications hereinbefore referred to, and

It is ordered that a true and correct copy of this entry be published each week for two consecutive weeks, as required by law, and as notice of my findings and determination in the matter, and

It is further ordered that a true and correct copy of this entry be served by return receipt certified mail on the owners of all property to be taken and of land abutting on any portion of the highway to be physically changed, or which will be affected by the construction of the improvement, and

It is further ordered that affected owners of property take due notice of the contents hereof and of the damages resulting from such taking, or from the making of such improvement, in Columbiana County, Ohio, and failure to file such claims for compensation or damages or both in the planner or within the time hereinbefore specified is a waiver thereof as provided in Section 5523.11, Revised Code of Ohio.

WITNESS my hand and seal this 19th day of November, 1962.

E. S. PRESTON

I hereby certify that the foregoing is a true and correct copy of an entry in the Right of Way Section of the City of Salem, Ohio, of the Highway, made on November 19, 1962, in Volume 47, Page 3065.
